Greetings,

We are excited to introduce to you the new Jewelry 4 God logo (above). The women kneeling is humbly presenting her gift, a necklace, to God as an act of worship. The continents represent those we are helping around the world who have been rescued from addiction, human trafficking, prostitution, gangs, and other life-controlling problems. The rock represents Jesus Christ, our foundation, whose example of practical love we strive to emulate.

Please take a minute to read the very moving request we received to train foster moms of AIDS orphans in the African nation of Swaziland and prayerfully consider partnering with us to help them.

"Dear Tim and Michelle,

We have been very excited to learn of the organization you are leading. The work you do brings hope, builds self-confidence and introduces life skills. This is exactly what we are looking for.

We (Swaziland) now hold the dubious title of leading the largest pandemic known to mankind in modern history, with the highest HIV AIDS percentages in the world. A whole generation is being destroyed. Previous pandemics would wipe out the weak. This one is attacking the strong, the income generating age group. It is leaving the weak and the orphaned to live alone, unprotected and without an income or the ability to procure food; pay for an education, let alone dream of a future with a hope. It is in this environment that transactional sex has become a reality, needing to provide sex for food. Jewelry 4 God can help empower the youth to be more financially independent and secure in being able to secure their future.

Please consider coming to Swaziland and teaching our foster mothers, who are responsible for caring for 8-10 orphans each. The foster mothers will then teach the children they care for these same skills, when they are old enough to learn, as a potential trade. The products would then be sold through stores in tourist sites in Swaziland.

For some time now we have been looking for a method to provide the house mothers of the Children's homes, both at Hawane and Bulembu, a means of generating income for their foster homes and the children they care for. We believe that Jewelry 4 God is the ideal solution to this, and are very excited at the prospect of these wonderful ladies being trained in a creative vocational skill that will build self-esteem in them, as they actively contribute towards the running expenses of their homes, in addition to demonstrating to the children the important principle of becoming self-supporting by utilizing the talents and abilities God has placed in each of them. It would be our aim that the mothers would, in turn, train the children in their care, in jewelry making, that they might learn from an early age a vocational skill that will give them a hope and a future.

God bless you both, and thank you for all you do.

Yours sincerely,

Kevin Ward
